*11th Annual Rafer Johnson-Jackie Joyner-Kersey
Invitational Track & Field Meet
Notebook*

► The Meet:

Begun in 2003, today's meet salutes two of UCLA's greatest champions, Rafer Johnson and Jackie Joyner-Kersey. Both are Olympic gold medalists and world-record holders: Johnson won the decathlon in 1960 and set three world records in that event between 1955 and 1960; Joyner-Kersey won the Olympic heptathlon in 1988 and 1992 and the long jump in 1988, and set seven heptathlon world records in all, including her still-standing mark of 7,291, set in 1988.

Both were also outstanding basketball players: Johnson for John Wooden at UCLA and Joyner-Kersey for Billie Moore, and have gone on to represent UCLA brilliantly in the years following their athletic careers as role models and humanitarians.

Today's competition will feature UCLA, LSU and TCU in dual-meet competition, along with added entries from world-class athletes training in Southern California. The schedule of events:

► Officials:

Today's officials are from the Southern Pacific Association of USA Track & Field. The meet referee is Bob Marcus. Starters are Bill Moore and Jeff Haspell.

► Scoring:

Dual-meet scoring will be effect for men's and women's meets between LSU-UCLA, LSU-TCU and TCU-UCLA. All will be scored with 5 points for first place, 3 for second and 1 point for third except for the relay events (5 points for the winner only). There are 19 events each for men and women and 163 total points at stake: it takes 82 or more to win.

► The Coaches:

All three collegiate squads are led by outstanding coaching staffs:

- LSU: Head coach Dennis Shaver (9th year), assisted by Bernie Brazell (sprints), Mark Elliott (distances), Todd Lane (jumps), Debbie Parris-Thymes (sprints), Derek Yush (throws).
- TCU: Head coach Darryl Anderson (9th year), assisted by Kevin Henderson (hurdles), John Kenneson (throws), Shawn Jackson (jumps), Liz Wort (distances) and David Freeman (operations).
- UCLA: Director of Track & Field Mike Maynard (4th year), Women's Head Coach Jeanette Bolden (20th year) and assistants Chris Asher (sprints), Forest Braden (distances), Johnny Gray (middle distances), Jack Hoyt (jumps) and volunteer assistants Anthony Curran (jumps), Sharon Day (jumps and multi-events), Maurice Greene (sprints), Rob Jarvis (multi-events), Bobby Jersee (sprints) and Darrell Smith Jr. (hurdles).

The Inside Lane

by JOE BRUIN

There's nothing quite like spring at UCLA's Drake Stadium, one of America's finest track & field facilities. Today's meet is especially festive, as it's the only scoring home meet of the 2013 season, but against two powerhouses, LSU and TCU. A few notes to consider:

HISTORY IN THE MAKING: Although all three teams have been track & field powers for years, this is a rare meeting between the schools. UCLA and LSU have met only once on the men's side, a thrilling 77-77 tie in 1989 at Drake Stadium. The stars included LSU's Slip Watkins, who won the 100 m and 200 m in 10.50 and 20.92 and Bruins Derek Knight (110 m Hurdles in 14.10 and 400 m Hurdles in 50.54) and David Wilson, who took the shot (61-2) and hammer (218-1).

The Bruin women and LSU have met twice, splitting the series. LSU won in a quadrangular meet in 1986 (LSU 81, UCLA 65, Wisconsin 42, Iowa State 7) and the Bruins held off the Tigers, 85-51 at Drake Stadium in 1989. That '89 meet was a scorcher, with LSU sprint star Dawn Sowell winning the sprints in 11.10 and 22.85 and Tananjalyne Stanley running 13.25 for LSU in the 100 m Hurdles.

UCLA and TCU have met twice before, both times at Drake Stadium, but with no scoring as the Horned Frogs sent only selected athletes and did not field a full team. But that doesn't mean the competition hasn't been hot, with Olympians Jon Drummond of TCU winning the 100 m in 1991 in 10.37 and UCLA's Danny Everett taking the 200 m in 20.65 in 1986. On the women's side, Bruin All-American Janeene Vickers won three events in the 1991 meet, taking the 100 m (11.60), 200 m (23.20) and 100 m Hurdles in 13.57, matching Bruin Gayle Kellon's triple in 1986 (400m: 53.98, HJ: 5-6 1/2; LJ: 18-2).

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY: Worth remembering are some great UCLA track & field teams celebrating anniversaries this year:

40th: 1973 Men's NCAA Champions
35th: 1978 Men's NCAA Champions
30th: 1983 Women's NCAA Champions
25th: 1988 Men's NCAA Champions

HAIL THE HALL OF FAMERS: Expected to be in attendance today are UCLA's men's head coaches from 1965 to today: Jim Bush (1965-1984), Bob Larsen (1985-1999), Art Venegas (2000-09) and current director of track & field, Mike Maynard (2010-present). Both Bush and Larsen are U.S. Track Coaches Association Hall of Famers, with Bush elected in 1996 and Larsen in 2003. No wonder: under Bush, UCLA won five NCAA Championships in 1966-71-72-73-78, seven conference championships and had a dual-meet record of 152-21 (including UCLA's first-ever wins over USC!); under Larsen, UCLA has an astonishing 118-3-1 dual record, two national titles in 1987 and 1988 and was 15-0 vs. USC. He also took UCLA to its first-ever NCAA Cross Country Championships, in 1979 and had top-five finishes in 1980 and 1981. Venegas may be on the way to the Hall of Fame as well, as one of America's greatest throws coaches: his charges won 33 individual NCAA titles and compiled 178 All-American performances. Among his pupils are throws legends including John Brenner, John Godina, Seilala Sua, Jessica Cosby and many more.

SCHEDULE REMINDERS: Although the Bruins will compete as a team only once at Drake Stadium this season, you can see UCLA in action several more times this season in Southern California:

April 18-21: Mt. SAC Relays
April 27: at USC
May 04-06: Pacific-12 Conference Multi-Events Championships, at USC
May 11-12: Pacific-12 Conference Track & Field Championships, at USC

Event-by-Event: Sprints

Preview: Three-time All-American Pinckney of LSU was fourth in the NCAA 100 m in 2010 and will be chased by 2012 Mountain West 100 m champ Lorraine Ugen of TCU. UCLA answers with two All-Americans of its own, but in different events: Brea Buchanan (indoor 60 m Hurdles), who is having a breakout season and long jumper Kylie Price, fresh from her fourth-place NCAA indoor finish. Among the Open Division entries is a treat: 2012 Olympic long jump champion Brittney Reese, trying to improve on her lifetime best of 11.66 in the 100 m, as well as Mandy White (11.44 in 2012), a two-time Pac-10 scorer for Oregon.

Preview: All eyes will be on All-American Charles Silmon of TCU, who was the top collegian in the hot Texas Relays 100 m, finishing fourth in a wind-aided 9.94! The Horned Frogs also have Ramone Bailey, fourth in the Mountain West 100 m in 2012, while LSU will counter with Shermund Allsop, who anchored the NCAA champion 4 x 100 m relay last June. Bruin Maxwell Dyce has already set a lifetime best of 10.46 this season and is looking to break up the LSU-TCU party from lane four. Among the Open Division entries, check out Rubin Williams (10.12 in 2008) and Jerome Avery (10.17 '04 and last year's RJ-JJK Invite winner) to challenge Silmon.

Preview: LSU's Kimberlyn Duncan is, in a word, special. She barely missed the 2012 U.S. Olympic team, finishing fourth in the Trials, after winning her second straight NCAA 200 m title. She added her third straight NCAA Indoor 200 m win last month in a brilliant 22.58. The race for second could be led by TCU's Chaniqua Corinealdi, the 2012 Mountain West 200 m champ, with Bruin Yasmin Woodruff and LSU's Toshika Sylvester in pursuit. Open Division entries include 2012 Olympic long jump bronze medalist Kelly Okagbare (22.63 in 2012), London 4 x 400 m relay gold medalist Keshia Baker (23.26 in 2012) and former UC San Diego star Kelly Fogarty (23.15 in 2012).

Preview: TCU's Silmon is back for more, but he'll have to fend off UCLA's Maxwell Dyce (20.75 best, from 20.11) and LSU soph All-American Aaron Ernest, the World Junior silver medalist in the 100 m and 200 m in 2012.

Also watch for Rubin Williams as an Open Division entry: he was the Pan-American Games bronze medalist in 2007 and has a best of 20.34 from 2009.

Preview: Expect a tight race here, with UCLA's Katie Reed, LSU's Siedda Herbert and Montene Speight evenly matched on paper.

The class of the field will likely come from Open Division entries Keshia Baker (50.76 best, from 2010; gold medalist on the U.S. 4 x 400 m relay in London 2012) and former Bruin star Joy Eaton (best of 52.61 in 2011). Baker won the Rafer Johnson-Jackie Joyner-Kersee Invite 400 m last year in a meet-record time of 51.48.

Preview: Quincy Downing, who won a gold medal on the American World Junior Championships 4 x 400 m team in 2012, is the favorite and has already broken 47 seconds this spring. UCLA is counting on sophs Pete Lauderdale and Wally Rodriguez to break up a potential Tiger 1-2 with Darrell Bush (46.95 in 2011). Freshman Ronnie Baker, an All-Big 12 indoor selection, posted a lifetime best of 46.95 indoors this season. Open Division entry Gil Roberts is a former Texas Tech All-American and has a sparking best of 44.84 from 2012.

Preview: LSU's Charlene Lipsey was the NCAA runner-up in this race in 2012 and third in the recent NCAA Indoor Champs, held last month. She's going to have to hold off teammate Natoya Goule, however, who beat her to the tape to win the NCAA Indoor 800 m in an indoor lifetime best of 2:02.00. TCU's Briyanni Thomas was Mountain West runner-up in the 800 m last year, but will get stiff competition from UCLA's Tiffany LaMar and Danielle Low.

Preview: Team points will be at a premium between UCLA freshmen Nick Hartle and Alex Monsivaiz and LSU's Julian Parker. Monsivaiz won the California State High School 800 m title in 2012, while Hartle scored an almost unthinkable quadruple, winning the 400 m, 800 m, 1600 m and 3200 m in the Nevada State Meet, to help lead Las Vegas Centennial to the team title!

Preview: A major scoring opportunity for the Bruins, who have five runners capable of winning this race, against LSU freshman Andria Aguilar and TCU frosh Maggie Escobar. The Open Division entries include Lea Wallace (4:10.77 in 2011), last year's Big Sky 1500 m champion while at Sacramento State, and former Hornet teammate Renisha Robinson, the Big Sky runner-up (best of 4:20.66, also in 2012).

Preview: A large total of 19 runners are entered, including eight from UCLA. The Bruins are counting on major points from its newcomers, especially redshirt freshman Lane Werley, freshman Austin O'Neil and J.C. transfer Patrick Dougkas. Among the Open Division entries are Duane Solomon, the fourth-place finisher in the Olympic 800 m in 1:42.82, making him the second-fastest American in history . . . behind only his coach – UCLA's Johnny Gray – the American Record holder at 1:42.60. Solomon has a 1500 m lifetime best of 3:48.29.

Preview: LSU senior Laura Carleton appears as the favorite: she won the SEC Indoor 5000 m title in 2012, was runner-up in the 3000 m SEC Indoor the same year. Although rarely run, the 3000 m (a half-lap short of two miles) is more accessible to 1500 m runners and a series of Bruins will be racing for points and a possible upset win.

Preview: Another large field, with 17 runners slated to start. UCLA's Dustin Fay is one of distance coach Forest Braden's emerging stars and junior Daniel Herrera scored a lifetime best 8:08.46 indoors. This late-meet race could be a deciding factor for the Bruins if they are chasing points to bring the meet with LSU down to the relay.

Preview: The steeplechase is one of track's toughest races, including a water jump and four giant hurdles spread around the track. Merissa Kado was UCLA's best steepler in 2012 and is the likely favorite here.

Preview: Redshirt senior David McDonald has the best pedigree in the field, achieving All-Pac-10 honors for his sixth-place finish in this race in 2011. TCU's Jake Rossmango finished ninth in the Mountain west steeple in 2012.

Preview: LSU's brilliant duo of All-American Jasmin Stowers and All-SEC Shanekia Hall will be tested by TCU's Larissa Mathews – the 2012 Mountain West champ – and UCLA's newest star, Brea Buchanan. The latter just scored her first All-American certificate with a fifth-place finish in the NCAA Indoor 60 m Hurdles, just 0.08 behind Stowers, who finished third. Wild card: the debut of UCLA freshman Trinity Wilson, the 2011 U.S. Junior champ, now healthy and rarin' to go.

Preview: LSU's Josh Thompson, a transfer from Pittsburgh, was the U.S. Junior Championships runner-up in 2012 and an All-IC4A selection. But even he'll be tempted to watch Jason Richardson, the 2012 Olympic silver medalist and 2011 World Champion, who has a best of 12.98 and was an NCAA champion in this event for South Carolina back in 2008. Also of note are Open Division entries Ronald Brookins (best of 13.42 from 2011) and former USC star Logan Taylor (13.66 in 2012).

Preview: UCLA's Turquoise Thompson has unfinished business in 2013: an NCAA championship, which has eluded her in each of the last two years, when she has finished second. She'll get an argument today from the unrelated Traceys of LSU: Nikita (already 57.83 this season) and Shana-Gaye (59.27). In the Open Division, Jamaica star Stevon Stoddart can run with Thompson; she's a two-time Olympian with a best of 54.47 from 2005 and a sterling 57.46 mark already this season.

Preview: UCLA senior David Klarer is on the comeback trail, looking to better his 2011 season that included All-Pac-10 honors for an eighth-place finish at the conference champs. He'll be joined by 2012 California State 300 m Hurdles champ Jarrett Gonzales in his first race as a Bruin, and Lavon Collins, the Mountain West third-placer in this event in 2012. Open Division entrant Jamele Mason of Puerto Rico has the fastest time in the field: 48.89 in 2012 for Texas Tech, for whom he finished second in the NCAAs and competed in the Olympic Games in London.

Preview: LSU ran sixth at the Texas Relays with a team of Siedda Herbert, Nikita Tracey, Montenae Roye-Speight and Natoya Goule and if the meet comes down to it, have many more speedy options to try.

Preview: The Tigers weren't messing around at the Texas Relays, with an early-season 3:05.27 for fourth place. That team included Quincy Downing, Caleb Williams, Cyril Grayson and Darrell Bush. They're the clear favorite here.

Preview: Alison Koressel is the Bruins' latest vault All-American, placing fifth in the recent NCAA Indoor Championships in March. She's already reached a new lifetime best of 14-1 3/4 outdoors. She'll be tested by All-Pac-12 performer Tasha Kolbo, a 2012 conference championships scorer, and LSU's Lacey Sanchez.

Open Division entrants include former Bruin All-American Katy Viuf, the ninth-place finisher at the 2012 Olympic Trials, who has a best of 14-9, set last year.

Preview: UCLA's All-American Michael Woepse was NCAA runner-up last year and earned his second A-A certificate with a seventh-place finish in the 2013 NCAA Indoors. He will be challenged by LSU's formidable vault corps, especially Andreas Duplantis (3rd in the 2013 SEC Indoor vault) and three-time SEC Outdoor scorers Thomas Reinecke and Joseph Callaway. Former UCLA star Yoo Kim highlights the Open Division entries; he's the South Korean record holder at 18-6 3/4 (2007), a two-time Olympian and was twice a Bruin All-American in 2003-04.

Preview: Looks like a fight between All-Americans Kylie Price of UCLA (fourth in the 2013 NCAA Indoors) and Lorraine Ugen of TCU (fifth in the 2013 NCAA Indoor). Price is hot right now, setting a new lifetime best of 21-4 3/4 at the Texas Relays, while Ugen has the longer personal record (22-1 1/2). In the Open Division, former Clemson All-American April Sinkler (21-6 1/4 in 2011) figures to fight both for the win today.

Preview: TCU's Ramone Bailey was the Mountain West long jump champ in 2012 and he's jumping like, scoring a lifetime best 25-0 3/4 at the Baylor Quad on March 22. He'll be chased by All-Mountain West teammate Cameron Parker (seventh in the conference meet in 2011) and Bruin freshman Blake Selig. The Open Division entrants include former NCAA Indoor Champion Reindell Cole (while at Cal State Northridge), who has jumped 26-9 3/4 and twice-NAIA long jump champion Ron Taylor (26-0 1/4 in 2012).

Preview: LSU has two All-Americans in this event, with the 2013 NCAA Indoor sixth-placer (Keri Emanuel) and seventh-placer (Lynnika Pitts). They'll get an argument from UCLA's Faith Anumba, who was an All-Pac-12 selection in 2012, finishing sixth in the conference meet. The top mark in the field belongs to Open Division entrant Crystal Manning, who finished fifth in the U.S. Olympic Trials last year and has a best of 45-9 3/4 from 2010.

Preview: The triple jump comes late in the meet and could be decisive. TCU has its ace, Cameron Parker, the two-time Mountain West champion going, with the best mark in the field, a personal record of 52-10 set earlier this year. The Bruins and Tigers are evenly matched with freshman Fitzroy Dunkley (49-5 1/2) against Bruin senior Dillon Stucky (50-1 1/4).

Preview: A tight battle between all-conference performers from LSU and TCU. Tori Bliss improved her lifetime best by more than a foot this winter, reaching 52-11 to place third in the SEC Indoor Championships. Megan Smith of TCU has the best mark in the field and was the Mountain West runner-up in 2012. Teammate Kelsey Samuels was Mountain West shot put champion indoors and out in 2011; all three have lifetime bests within just 18 inches of each other.

Preview: Bruin fans will get their first chance to see how good freshman Nicolas Scarvelis can be. The U.S. Junior runner-up in 2012, he's already improved his best to 58-1 1/4 year and is looking to join the 60-foot club. He'll be challenged, however, All-Mountain West performer Paul Osunwa of TCU (third in the conference meet in 2012) and Rodney Brown of LSU, an All-SEC selection after finishing seventh in the 2012 conference meet. In the Open Division, former Penn State star Joe Kovacs will throw (69-2 best from 2012); he finished fourth in the U.S. Olympic Trials last year, but was a three-time All-American for the Nittany Lions. Eric Werskey, formerly of Auburn, was ninth at the Trials and has a 65-0 3/4 best from 2011.

| | | | | | Julian Wruck | UCLA | Jr. | 216-7 | 216-7 '13 |

Preview: Megan Smith of TCU is not only the school-record holder, but has the best mark in the field by nearly eight feet. She'll be chased by LSU's Tori Bliss, though, who is improving rapidly and has a strong winter in the shot put. In the Open Division, 2012 NCAA champion Whitney Ashley (ex-San Diego State) will throw (best of 196-10 from 2012), along with Jere Summers (195-6 in 2012), who finished 10th in the 2012 U.S. Olympic Trials last summer.

Preview: UCLA's Australian sensation, Julian Wruck, will make his Drake Stadium debut in blue-and-gold. He's had a great 2013 already, setting the school record twice and launching the disc out to 216-7 at the Texas Relays. He won the 2011 NCAA discus title while at Texas Tech, but transferred to UCLA prior to the 2012 season; he was also an Australian Olympian in 2012. Teammate Matt Kosecki is the defending Pac-12 discus champion and both will be challenged by LSU's Rodney Brown. The latter tossed a lifetime best 206-3 for second behind Wruck at Texas. In the Open Division is former UCLA star Bo Taylor (191-9 best from 2011), a four-time All-Pac-10/12 selection while a Bruin.

Preview: It's all about Ida, as UCLA's Swedish hammer sensation continues to improve. She's earned All-American honors outdoors (fifth in the 2012 NCAA hammer) and indoors (second in the 2012 NCAA weight throw) and was an All-Pac-10/12 selection both years. The fight for second looks to be between LSU teammates Denise Hinton and Karen Henning, the SEC third-placer in 2012. In the Open Division are former All-Americans Kristin Smith (212-2 in 2011), a 2010 A-A for Kentucky (sixth) and the versatile Jere Summers (207-4 in 2010), who won the Big East for Louisville in 2010 and followed with a third-place finish at the NCAAs.

Preview: UCLA junior Alec Faldermeyer is already a three-time All-American, finishing as high as third in 2012, but he's looking to break the 230-foot barrier and is out to 228-10 already this season. He's figures to win, but the other scoring places figure to be tightly contested between LSU's Jeremy Tuttle (All-SEC in 2012 for his fourth-place finish) and UCLA's Josh Scherer, a transfer from UC Santa Barbara, where he was seventh in the Big west hammer competition in 2011. In the Open Division, look for Colin Dunbar, a 226-8 performer already this year, who was the 2011 Big West champ for Long Beach State and 12th in the 2012 U.S. Olympic Trials.

| Victoria Breidenthal | UCLA | Jr. | no mark | 121-6 '13 | Terry Hughes | LSU | Fr. | 198-10 | 198-10 '13 |

Preview: Freshmen will make their mark with the spear, as the top marks in the field belong to Doren Welch of LSU and two-time Oregon State HS 5A champ Makena Schroder of TCU.

Preview: Sophomores will battle on the men's side, with UCLA's All-Pac-12 (3rd) performer Derek Eager pitching against LSU's All-SEC (5th) chucker Jeremy Tuttle. The third-place point in the event could be important in the UCLA-LSU dual and matches UCLA's Carlo Valdes and LSU's Philip LeBlanc. In the Open Division, Lance Walkington (222-0 in 2011) will compete strongly against both Eager and Tuttle.
